

Transportation & Parking Guide for UNT Family and Friends

Parking info for you

All addresses and parking lot numbers can be found on Google Maps.

Example: Get directions from your location to "Highland Street Garage, Denton, TX"; or to "University of North Texas Lot 25."

Visitor parking lots that are hourly pay-by-phone with ParkMobile app are Lots 7, 16 and 49. Visitor hourly lots that are pay-by-phone with ParkMobile app or pay at a kiosk with credit card are Lots 5, 25 and 55. We also offer hourly rates in our Highland Street Garage.

Discovery Park is located at 3940 North Elm St., Denton, TX, 76207. Google Maps can direct you to this address to these lots by searching "UNT Lot ##." Lots 92, 93, 94 and 95 offer hourly parking via the ParkMobile app on your smartphone.

Daily permits: You can purchase and print a one-day permit that allows you to park in any Eagle parking lot. Find the link on our website, www.transportation.unt.edu.

Google Maps allows you to drop a map pin to save your location. Do this when you park so you can find your way back to your car!

Use the parking map on our website to find the best parking lot location for your needs.

You can find the parking map on the home page at www.transportation.unt.edu.

For example: If you are visiting your student in Victory Hall, consider purchasing a day permit that allows you to park in the Eagle or F/S lots next to the residence hall. If you want to meet your student for lunch in the UNT Union, Highland Street Garage may be a quick and easy option.

Help for your student

Residence Hall move-in and move-out: During these designated weekends, you can park next to the halls without a permit. If you are doing an early move-in or move-out, please check with our office at 940-565-3020 or transportation.services@unt.edu prior to parking on campus. Please avoid parking in RR (orange & black) or A (green) lots unless you have that permit.

Your resident student at Discovery Park: If your student has an R, RR or FCS permit they can park in Lot 96 at Discovery Park. Google "UNT Lot 96" or, at the main entrance take the road to the right to the last lot at Discovery Park.

If your student has a Highland Street Garage card, they will need to take the Discovery Park bus from the UNT Union (see schedules at www.dcta.net) or pay for parking hourly, daily or with a parking permit.

Your commuter student: Students often want to park in the lots closest to their classes, but that isn't always possible. Lot 20 (Google "University of North Texas Lot 20") typically has hundreds of open spaces for Eagle permit holders. They can walk or bike to campus or take a Mean Green bus - which is ADA compliant. We strongly encourage the use of this lot because it can save a lot of time and it's easy to use!

Riding the bus: This can be a strange experience for most students who haven't had to ride a bus before. To help them prepare, we recommend downloading the Transit app. This will let them know when buses are arriving. Also, ask other students and practice riding. It's easy! On the Denton County Transportation Authority (DCTA) website., you can find Rider Alerts to sign up for a text or email that will let you know if the bus is running late. You can also find Go Requests - fill one out to file a complaint or connect with DCTA (say, you left an item on the bus).

- » The first week of fall semester is the busiest time of the year for UNT.
- » Your student may need to allow 30-45 extra minutes to get to class.
- » Many commuter parking lots fill up quickly. Lot 20 is a good alternative.
- » Buses may be crowded and running behind due to increased traffic.

Please encourage your student to prepare - it will get better!
